Course Description:

634 Contemporary Issues in Education Leadership (3:3:0) Prerequisite: admission to program. Examines current and emerging issues and trends impacting education. Includes demographic shifts; globalization; technology; data-based decision-making; inclusion of diverse learners in American schools; and recent research on student achievement when influenced by race, gender, and poverty.

Nature of Course Delivery:

A variety of instructional methods are used in this course to cover the course content and create a dynamic, interactive learning environment. These methods include large- and small group instruction, cooperative learning, media, Internet assignments, lecture, group presentations and individual research.

Teaching and Learning: Each class will include a variety of activities and exercises. Out-of-class work will rely in part on the use of Task Stream. Specific process goals for the class are as follows:

Classes will reflect a balance of activities that encourage the exploration of trends and issues in education leadership. To promote an atmosphere that allows us to accomplish this, we will:

- Start and end on time;
- Maintain a written agenda reflecting objectives for each class;
- In following the tenets of a professional learning community we will
  - Agree to disagree respectfully during class discussions;
  - Strive to be open to new ideas and perspectives; and
  - Listen actively to one another.

Student work will reflect what is expected from leaders. As such, students are expected to:

- Write papers that are well researched, proofed, submitted in a timely fashion, and that conform to APA guidelines;
- Participate actively in class discussions in a manner that challenges the best thinking of the class; and
- Provide constructive feedback to others both on their ideas and on their written work, striving to learn from each other and to test each other's ideas.

We will endeavor to create a classroom climate that approximates what we know about learning organization. As such, it is important that we create a space that allows participants to try out new ideas and voice opinions without fear of ridicule or embarrassment. The hallmark of a learning organization is a balance between openness and constructive feedback; hence, everyone is expected to:

- Come fully prepared to each class;
- Demonstrate appropriate respect for one another;
- Voice concerns and opinions about class process openly;
- Recognize and celebrate each other's ideas and accomplishment; and
- Show an awareness of each other's needs.

Student Outcomes

Students will

1. Be able to explain several of the seismic shifts and major trends and their implications for society at large and schools and school districts in particular.
2. Demonstrate an understanding of the history of diverse groups in United States and review education in United States in reference to diverse groups as well as the privileges or inequities that members of these groups have encountered on the basis of race, ethnicity, and social class.
3. Articulate how student diversity can help teachers and administrators develop curriculum that includes global literacy with a significant effect on economic, cultural, and political matters, with particular attention on how culture influences learning.

4. Describe the educational rights of individuals with disabilities including the legal foundations, models of service delivery, and the concepts of mainstreaming and inclusion.
5. Describe ways in which special educators and regular educators can partner with regard to shared goals, collaboration, referrals, and placements.
6. Describe the regulations and various philosophies and methods used in educating English Language Learners.
7. Be able to articulate effective knowledge management strategies that use technology to enhance administration, teaching, and learning at the school and district levels.
8. Apply principles of legal, ethical, social, and equity issues related to technology (such as copyright, fair use, equitable access, free speech) along with effective techniques for evaluating technology effectiveness.
9. Be able to synthesize recent research relative to student achievement in diverse school settings with particular attention to the relationships between student achievement and gender, race, and poverty.

Relationship to Program Goals and Professional Organization

This course is intended as one of two culminating courses in the Masters in Education Leadership Program. Course content focuses on key contemporary issues in public education, both current and emerging. At the conclusion of the course, participants are expected to demonstrate knowledge and skills that increase their effectiveness when working in diverse school settings, an expected hallmark of education in the 21st century.

In relationship to professional organization competencies, participants in this course will demonstrate proficiency in appropriate VA DOE competencies and ISLLC standards. VA DOE: 1-d, 1-e, 2-c, 2-d, 3-g, 4-a, 5-c, 6-e, 6-f. ISLLC: 1-K1, 1-K4, 1-K5, 2-K7, 2-K10, 2-P5, 2-P6, 2-P9, 2-P16, 2-P18, 3-K8, 3-P3, 3-P16, 3-P17, 4-K1, 4-K2, 4-P11, 5-K3, 5-P12, 6-K6, 6-K8, 6-P2, 6-P4, 6-P5. With regard to NCATE Curriculum Guidelines, candidates in this course will demonstrate an understanding of, and capabilities in, all four areas of education leadership: strategic leadership (1.3, 1.6, 2.1, 2.2, 2.3, and 2.4); instructional leadership (3.3, 3.4); organizational leadership (7.2, 7.4, and 9.3). ELCC Standards –4.1c, 5.2a, 5.3a, 6.2a, 6.3b, 6.3c.

Course Materials:

Textbook: Marx, Gary, Sixteen Trends: Their Profound Impact on Our Future, Arlington, VA, Education Research Service, 2006.

Readings assigned by professor and self selected for specific projects.

Outside-of-Class Resources

Online access is vital for the learning aspects of the course. All students are now required to activate and monitor their GMU e-mail accounts. If you are uncertain about how to do this, please see me. It is my expectation that you will be fully competent to send and receive e-mail messages with attachments. If your computer at school or home has spam blocking that will prevent you from seeing messages with attachments, you are responsible for addressing this problem immediately.

All students are required to use <http://www.taskstream.com> as part of this course. This is an Internet site at which I will post vital information for the course and through which we will communicate from time to time. Samples of student work will be archived on this site for purposes of course, program, and college assessment.

It is my expectation that all students have access to Microsoft Office. We will be using Word for this course. If you do not have access to this software, you are required to obtain it within the first two weeks of the course. It is best to have the most recent (2007) version of the software.

Course Requirements, Performance-based Assessments, and Evaluation Criteria:

Consistent with expectations of a master's level course in the Education Leadership program, grading is based heavily on student performance on written assignments. The assignments constructed for this course reflect a mix of skills associated with education leadership contexts. Overall, written work will be assessed using the following broad criteria:

- Application of concepts reflected in class discussion and readings;
- Creativity and imagination;
- Organization and writing. A clear, concise, and well-organized paper will earn a better grade.

Additionally, a portion of the class grade will be based on participation and the contribution you make to class discussions. The overall weights of the various performances are as follows:

Class participation - 15 points

Students are expected to actively participate in class discussions, in group activities, and in serving as critical friends to other students. Attendance is expected for all classes. If you must be absent, please notify the instructor by e-mail or phone. More than one absence may result in a reduction in participation points. Arriving at class more than 30 minutes late or leaving more than 30 minutes before the end of class may result in loss of points. Participation in electronic discussions, if given, on Task Stream will count as part of the participation grade.

Class assignments - 85 points

Several different types of performance-based assignments (and reflections) will be completed during the time frame of this course.

Each assignment and a rubric for grading each assignment are described at the end of this syllabus. The assignments are focused on steps to create a future for schools and to develop education leadership skills. There is an urgent need to brainstorm the implications of trends and issues regarding how schools are led and managed, what students need to know and be able to do, and possibilities for community involvement.

ALL WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS must be submitted electronically, through Task Stream. Task Stream is an online assessment system used by the college to collect student work, provide feedback to students, and maintain an ongoing record of student assessment data. You will be provided with a Task Stream account and use Task Stream to submit work for courses, as well as to prepare and submit your internship portfolio.

Late work: It is expected that student work will be submitted on time, meaning no later than by midnight of the due date. Late assignments may receive a deduction in points. Assignments will not be accepted later than one week after a due date. Papers due on a day when you are absent must be submitted electronically by the due date.

Rewrites: Students may rewrite a paper (other than the final paper) and re-submit the paper for re-grading within one week of receiving the paper back. Papers that are initially submitted more than one week late will not be graded.

Grading scale:

A+	=	100 points
A	=	95-99 points
A-	=	90-94 points
B+	=	87-89 points
B	=	83-86 points
B-	=	80-82 points
C	=	75-79 points
F	=	0-74 points

CEHD/GSE Expectations for All Students

The College of Education and Human Development (CEHD) and the Graduate School of Education (GSE) expect that all students abide by the following:

- Students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code [See <http://academicintegrity.gmu.edu/honorcode/>].
- Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with the George Mason University Office of Disability Services (ODS) and inform their instructor, in writing, at the beginning of the semester [See <http://ods.gmu.edu/>].
- Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing [See <http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/1301gen.html>].
- Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their George Mason University email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.
- Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be turned off during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.
  - Regarding electronic devices (such as laptops, cell phones, etc.), please be respectful of your peers and your instructor and do not engage in activities that are unrelated to class. Such disruptions show a lack of professionalism and may affect your participation grade.
- Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

Core Values Commitment

The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles.

Assignments:

I. Trends and Implications - 30 points (Due Wednesday, October 3, 2012)

This assignment gives students the opportunity to use Marx's focus on trends that will have a profound impact on our future. The trends draw attention to implications that will shape our schools and school leadership. As a result, your attention to trends and your view of their impact is central to school improvement and leadership development.

The end product of this assignment is a paper not to exceed 5 pages. To get to that point, follow the steps below:

Identify 5 trends that you see as especially important in meeting school goals. Explain why you chose each trend and the impact each trend will have on the future of education.

Write your paper with the following components:

- An introduction that draws the reader gradually into the topic of your paper and that ends with a thesis naming the trends and basic reason for the choices made.

- A body that demonstrates the validity of the thesis by presenting coherent, logical, and persuasive arguments that focuses on the trends and implications that explain where schools and leaders ought to be focused to impact future trends.

II. Issue Brief - 25 points (Due Wednesday, October 31, 2012)

Leading in the 21st century involves constantly scanning the internal and external environment to identify issues that need to be addressed. An Issue Brief is often used to convey an overview of information impacting education. School leaders are often asked to prepare documents to justify programs and practices. This assignment will give you an opportunity to select an issue that is of high interest to you and write an Issue Brief (3-5 pages).

Write your paper with the following components:

- Introduction including identifying the issue and a brief statement of the issue as well as a thesis statement
- A body that includes an analysis of the issue, and its potential impact on education leadership. This information will determine how you view the significance of the issue that you plan to address. Additionally, this section of the brief will focus on what you know about the issue.
- Implications for Schools: explain specific directions (at least 3) that schools/district should take
- Conclusion
- References

III Presentation of the 17th Trend – 30 Points (Presentations will be Wednesday, November 28 and December 5, 2012)

Students will present individually a new trend which he/she feels is effecting education in the immediate future. Presentations are of the students design and should incorporate the use of technology. A PowerPoint is not required! Utilization of outside sources is expected and at least one journal article for each member of the class will be handed out to the class meeting before the presentation so everyone has some background knowledge*. (Time per presentation to be determined by the number of students in the class but maximum time will be 10 to 15 minutes.)

*(preference would be giving the class a URL address and journal title for them to locate and read prior to your presentation)
