COURSE DESCRIPTION

Uses a cultural inquiry process (CIP) and web site to acquire cultural, social, and language-related perspectives on educational processes; and teaches skills to analyze educational settings and expand strategies to address puzzlements in student's own practice.

Prerequisites: Admission to the ASTL Program; EDUC 612, EDUC 613, and EDUC 614

LEARNER OUTCOMES/OBJECTIVES

By the completion of EDUC 606, ASTL Core participants will be able to:

- A. Understand the application of research approaches to inquiry and inquiry into practice through the systematic monitoring of student learning (ASTL Learning Outcome 4);
- B. Articulate perspectives (assumptions, theories, principles, and findings) and methods useful for understanding cultural influences and diversity in the educational setting (ASTL Learning Outcome 6);
- C. Apply cultural perspectives and culturally responsive methods in educational settings (ASTL Learning Outcome 6 and 7);
- D. Use cultural perspectives and research literature to help construct and evaluate appropriate interventions for classroom use (ASTL Learning Outcomes 4 and 6);
- E. Explain to colleagues the critical importance of considering multiple perspectives and second language learners' needs (ASTL Learning Outcomes 5 and 6); and
- F. Explore and respect differences in teaching and learning as they relate to cultural diversity and social justice in the field of action research (ASTL Learning Outcomes 1, 4, 5, and 6).

RELATIONSHIP TO PROGRAM GOALS & PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATION

EDUC 606 is one of the five courses that comprise the ASTL Education Core. Within the ASTL Core, EDUC 606 is carefully aligned with the learning experiences along the Core continuum EDUC 612, EDUC 613, EDUC 614, and concurrent EDUC 615. EDUC 612 (Inquiry into Practice) helped participants develop critical reflective skills and research knowledge for conducting inquiry related to practice. In EDUC 613 (How Students Learn), Core participants were introduced to various factors that influence the individual learner and conducted a case study research of a learner. In EDUC 614, participants looked at new ways to design and assess teaching and learning in their classrooms and researched their teaching practice via video analysis. In EDUC 606, our focus will turn to looking at students and educational settings from various cultural perspectives. The class will introduce you to cultural perspectives through the Cultural Inquiry Process (CIP), a process that guides practitioners through cultural inquiries. You will use this process to conduct an action research study that focuses on cultural influences and is designed to deepen your knowledge about student learning. The focus of your study may range from a group of students to an entire classroom.

EDUC 606 is aligned with the NBPTS propositions (these propositions are also ASTL learning outcomes), specifically:

- Proposition 1: Teachers are committed to students and their learning; (ASTL Learning Outcome 1)
- Proposition 4: Teachers think systematically about their practice and learn from experience; (ASTL Learning Outcome 4) and
- Proposition 5: Teachers are members of learning communities. (ASTL Learning Outcome 5)

EDUC 606 is aligned with two of the additional outcomes that guide the ASTL Core:

- Principle 6: Teachers account for the needs of culturally, linguistically, and cognitively diverse learners; (ASTL Learning Outcome 6) and
- Principle 7: Teachers are change agents, teacher leaders, and partners with colleagues (ASTL Learning Outcome 7)

Core Values Commitment

The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practices, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles, which have been adopted by the faculty. EDUC 606 focuses on all five of these core values through promoting culturally based action research that is intentional and committed to social justice, ethical and collaborative research. Through online groups and creative solutions to classroom puzzlements, this course also promotes innovative classroom practices that are data driven and aimed at making a difference for all students and improving instructional decisions and promoting social justice for all learners through research-based practice.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND ASSIGNMENTS

Nature of Course Delivery

This course will be delivered in asynchronous and synchronous format using Blackboard 9.1 course management system on the MyMason portal. Course delivery will be through mini-lecture, structured collaborative reflective groups, and discussion forums based on topics aligned with national standards and program/learner outcomes.

The Blackboard course site will be open to students January 21, 2014. To access the course, go to the MyMason portal login page at <https://mymasonportal.gmu.edu/>. Your GMU email user name is also your MyMason Portal ID and your GMU email password is also your MyMason Portal password. After logging in, click on the COURSES tab at the top of the page to see your list of courses, then select EDUC 606.

Mini-lectures, videos, and interactive discussions of readings and ongoing critical reflective practice will support learning experiences throughout the course and will complement your experiences and expose you to the major cultural perspectives, as explored through the CIP process.

General Requirements

- A. Please note that this online course is not self-paced: it consists of weekly modules that progress through the semester sequentially. You will be expected to complete one learning module every week. It is critical for each student to complete all readings and activities on a weekly basis. Class ‘attendance’ is both important and required. If, due to an emergency, you will not be participating in course activities on time, you must contact your instructor prior to their due time. Learners with more than two ‘absences’ may drop a letter grade or lose course credit.

- B. All assignments are due no later than 11:59 PM EDT of the date indicated in each week’s assignments published in the COURSE SCHEDULE AND TOPICS section of this Syllabus. Due dates are also posted on our Bb course site.
- a. Grades for assignments date-stamped in Blackboard after the due date will be reduced by 10%, unless prior approval from instructor has been granted. No late submissions will be accepted after the course end date.
 - b. Assignments earning less than a passing grade may be rewritten and resubmitted so that the assignment is satisfactorily completed. In fact, because learning is the goal, I may require you to redo an assignment that is far below expectations.
- C. Please adhere to the assignment submission instructions listed in this Syllabus. Only assignments submitted as indicated will be graded; incorrect submissions may result in a grade of zero for those assignments.
- a. All assignments submitted should have the filename format as follows: Last name-Assignment Title. Please do not upload written assignments in PDF format. Other editable formats are acceptable (i.e., .doc, .docx, .rtf, .ppt, .pptx, .xlsx, .xlxs). Supporting documents for assignments can be in PDF format.
- D. Please Note: All written work should be carefully edited for standard grammar and punctuation, as well as clarity of thought. All submitted work should be prepared through word processing and reflect APA style (6th edition), as well as double-spaced, with 1” margins, and 12-point font (Times New Roman, Calibri, or Arial).

Instructor Role

- Although your professor will be monitoring online discussion forums, his/her participation within them will be limited, as the faculty want discussion development to be authentic. Please note that during this time, your professor will be noting the quality and extent of your participation.
- In order to link your work with that of your peers and with the weekly topic, the professor will make weekly synthesis posts that capture the big ideas shared across discussions that week.

Student Expectations

- Students are also expected to adhere to a 24-hour turnaround time for emails.
- Students are expected to visit our Blackboard site at least three times during the week: Once at the beginning of each week, once in the middle of the week, and then again at the end to read any new posts and replies. Please note that you can subscribe to forums/threads to be notified when new posts are added. Please see posted directions in Blackboard for doing this.

- Students are expected to read all posted/emailed Course Announcements. These contain important information from your instructor. In addition to being sent by email, these will be available in the Course Announcements link in Blackboard.
- It is expected that you will monitor your participation to remain timely and responsive and be able to complete all tasks on-time without reminder. Successful students in an online learning environment are proactive, self-regulated, and manage their time well. You should expect to spend 12-15 hours a week on work for this 3-credit course (including reading).

Assignments

	Points
Class Participation Class and CFG Engagement (35 points) Portfolio Reflection Point 3 (5 points)	40
Development of Research Study (incremental journal entries and formal drafts) Drafts: 4 points each Journals: 2 points each	20
Cultural Research Study (PBA)	40
Total Points	100

Class Participation / Weekly Work

EDUC 606 operates under the assumption that knowledge is socially constructed and the most meaningful learning opportunities include those where learners have the opportunity to offer and explore diverse perspectives with peers. To do this, it is expected that you will regularly contribute to and engage in discussion forums, as well as to genuinely ‘listen’ to peers as they do the same. While agreement is not mandatory, consideration and respect for others are. Thus, you must be “present” throughout all discussions and activities. It is expected that you actively build upon your prior knowledge developed in EDUC 612, 613, and 614 to connect, question, and extend the discussion with all new posts by citing readings, material in the weekly modules content, and augment these with your personal and educational experiences. In addition to quality participation in discussion forums, each week will include tasks to be completed which are related to each week’s content, such as reading responses or development of your cultural inquiry in a journal format. Attendance and participation in all scheduled Collaborate sessions is also included in Weekly Work. Please refer to the Weekly Work rubric in this syllabus for grading criteria.

Please note, as this is an online course, the majority of our discussion will be in the form of the electronic discussion board. Each module will begin on a Monday and run through the following Sunday. To this end, initial postings for each discussion forum should be completed by Thursday (EST) so that class members will have until Sunday to interact with the posted material and engage in “conversation.”

We will use Blackboard to communicate regularly in this class. You will be asked to post assignments and responses, read classmates’ postings, and actively participate in discussions.

Blackboard will be an important vehicle for discussing ongoing work on your major project with group members. Please refer to the Participation Rubric in this syllabus for evaluation criteria.

Portfolio Reflection Point 3 (DUE: May 14, 2014) (5 points)

As a part of the ASTL Core, participants will continue to build their Professional Portfolio and will add Reflection Point #3 (see the box below) at the conclusion of EDUC 606. For additional detailed information about this Reflection Point, as well as the remainder of the Portfolio, please refer to the Portfolio Guidelines posted in the ASTL Core Cohorts 2013-14 Organization site. You will submit Reflection Point 3 to the ASTL Core Cohorts 2013-14 Org site and also upload it to your Professional Portfolio.

Cultural Inquiry Study and Report (The EDUC 606 Performance-Based Assessment)

The purpose of this cultural inquiry study is to provide you the opportunity for a hands-on learning experience using cultural perspectives and methods to understand more about persons, students, yourself, or situations in educational settings. Using the Cultural Inquiry Process (Jacob, 1999), the study is designed to advance your inquiry and research skills and to help you develop classroom-based expertise in designing and monitoring appropriate educational action(s) to promote culturally and linguistically responsive pedagogy.

Development of Research Study (journal entries and formal section drafts)

To facilitate your action research process, work on your study will be incrementally completed throughout the semester. There will be tasks (with resulting deliverables- either journal entries or formal paper drafts) to complete along the way that will aid you in planning, implementing, and writing the final report of your cultural inquiry. You will engage in these tasks both independently and/or with a group of critical friends who will help you to surface and refine your puzzlements and your resulting plan of action. When you engage in and complete these developmental tasks, you will receive feedback either from your critical friends group or your instructor. It is expected that you use this feedback to further refine your study. You will also give feedback to your critical friends. Evaluation criteria for research study journals and drafts will be based on timely completion.

GRADING SCALE

| 95-100 =A | 90-94 =A-| 86-89=B+ | 83-85=B | 80-82= B- | 70-79=C |Below 70=F |

TASKSTREAM REQUIREMENTS

Every student registered for EDUC 606, Education and Culture, is required to submit the following assessment, the Cultural Inquiry Study and Report, to TaskStream. Evaluation of the performance-based assessment by the course instructor will also be completed in TaskStream. Failure to submit the assessment to TaskStream will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless the IN grade is changed upon completion of the required TaskStream submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

PROMPT FOR ASTL PORTFOLIO REFLECTION POINT 3

(to be completed at the end of the semester)

Teacher as Researcher with a Cultural Perspective

In this section, you should focus on how coursework, related readings, and products in EDUC 606 have led you to focus more deeply on teachers as researchers with a cultural perspective toward their educational settings. Please reflect on your own learning and your growth and change at this point in the Core and consider your cultural and linguistic perspectives. In your reflection, please address any of the applicable eight program learning outcomes and the ways in which the performance assessments included in this section provide evidence of your knowledge.

Suggested course products to be used as evidence of knowledge:

- Cultural Inquiry Study and Report (EDUC 606)
- Selections from the Reflective Journal about research or cultural knowledge
- Personal reflection on culture/language and its impact on your classroom inquiry (written as a result of the CIP study)
- Other, as selected by individual (be specific)

Guidelines and Suggested Format for each of the Reflection Points

Length: Aim to limit your response to two well written pages

Focus: Each Reflection Point should include a short description, but will focus on interpretation and analysis of learning by synthesizing knowledge attained from that learning component of the Core coursework.

Format: Each reflection point describes, interprets, and examines why and how the course product(s) provide evidence of the ASTL principles addressed in that learning module. Here you should also discuss the impact of this course/learning module on your teaching practice and its impact on P-12 student learning.

Cultural Inquiry Process Steps (Jacob, 1999)

1. Select as your focus one or more students and identify your puzzlement(s) about the student(s).
2. Summarize what is already known about the focus individual(s) and the context.
3. Consider alternative cultural influences and select one or more of them to explore.
4. Gather and analyze relevant information as needed.
5. Develop and implement action(s) as needed.
6. Monitor the process and results of action(s).
7. Write a report of your CIP study.

*Reference handouts for details regarding the CIP steps.

Special Reminders for Completing Your Cultural Inquiry Study and Report following the Cultural Inquiry Process (CIP)(Jacob, 1999)

- Your paper should follow APA 6th edition format and include correctly formatted references.
- To protect the anonymity of the people involved, use only pseudonyms for participants and proper names in your discussions and in the report.
- Write your report with your educational colleagues as the audience. Your written report should incorporate the CIP questions.
- Comprehensive evaluation criteria is provided in the rubric and will be discussed in class. We are here to support your work and help whenever we can. For your planning purposes, general criteria include the selection of appropriate topic, use of cultural perspectives, thorough data collection and analysis, connections to at least 6 research references (at least 3 of which come from sources outside course readings; others may come from course readings), clear presentation of findings, thorough discussion, thoughtful reflections, clear organization and writing. This Cultural Inquiry Study and Report builds on the research and data collection plans you followed in completing your 613 Case Study of a Learner.
- The final section is a 1-1.5 pages reflective narrative to be included at the end of the inquiry report-- you and your instructor are the primary audience. In this section, you should relate your project to EDUC 606 course outcomes and discuss what you personally learned from your inquiry. To do this, please respond to the following two prompts:
 - What was your most significant learning with regard to the interrelationship between culture and education?
 - What is the potential impact of this study on your teaching, your learning, and on the learning of the students in your classroom? Explain why.

Criteria for Evaluation: Refer to the PBA rubric.
