- Synchronous: Our course week will begin on the day that our synchronous meeting take place as indicated on the Schedule of Classes.
- Log-in Frequency: Refer to the asynchronous bullet below if your course is asynchronous or the synchronous bullet if your course is synchronous.

It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.

Netiquette: Our goal is to be collaborative, not combative. Experience shows that even an innocent remark in the online environment can be misconstrued. I suggest that you always re-read your responses carefully before you post them to encourage others from taking them as personal attacks. Be positive in your approach to others and diplomatic with your words. I will do the same. Remember, you are not competing with each other but sharing information and learning from one another as well as from the instructor.

Course Policies & Expectations

Attendance.

All instruction takes place online through Mason's Blackboard learning management system.

This is a 3-credit graduate level course. Traditional 3-credit courses across a 15-week semester require an average of 45 hours of in-class time and approximately 90 hours of independent reading and assignment completion. This course includes the same amount of content as a traditional 15-week course. As you budget your time for the course, keep in mind the importance of allotting an appropriate amount of time for course preparation, reading assignments, lesson activity completion, and longer module assignments. I would recommend you review the syllabus carefully and develop a schedule for yourself. Students have failed the course because they did not allocate time and ran out of it at the end. Please note that ALL work for the course, including the upload of your Blackboard (Assessments section) requirements must be completed by the end date given in the Course Schedule.

Participation.

This is both an interactive and independent course that requires a high level of self-direction, communication, and problem solving on your part. You will learn from the material provided and from one another. This is a primarily self-paced course so everyone's schedule will vary. You are responsible for all communication that occurs during the time of the course. Please check your Mason email frequently (or set it to forward to a preferred address), even after you have finished all components of the course. If something is missing or I need to contact you, I will send you communication through your Mason email. If you are having trouble finding something within the course or have content-based questions, please contact me. If you are having technical issues, please refer to the Technical Support information below.

Technical Support.

This course requires you to work in an online environment. Therefore, you must have a working computer and access to the Internet at all times. Computer malfunctions and other technological problems are your responsibility and must be resolved by you in a timely fashion.

If you need technical assistance for gaining access to Mason's Blackboard page or your Mason email, contact ITU support at:

Evaluation.

Assignments are evaluated according to posted rubrics. You can find the assignment descriptions and rubrics in each Module. Grades for most reading checks will be available immediately after you finish and will post to the Grade Center (My Grades in the left side navigation bar). For Module assignments (and some reading checks), I will grade the assignment and post the score you earned and my comments to Grade Center. You can read the comments by clicking on the grade. If you have any questions, please contact me. If you have difficulty with an assignment, either in understanding it or completing it, please contact me immediately to discuss.

All Module assignments require you to synthesize material from the Course and outside sources into coherent statements of your ideas. In all cases, your writing should be data-based, meaning that you must support statements and ideas with evidence from these sources, giving these sources credit. The standard format for writing in the field of education is outlined in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). The citation for this manual is included in the section entitled, Recommended Texts. This is also termed "APA Style." For an online resource, see www.apastyle.org. Specifically, Module Final Assignments for Modules 1 and 4 should be written in APA style, including a cover page, running head, pagination, headings (as needed), citations (as needed), and reference pages.

Communication.

The best way to contact me is through email. There is a Send Email icon on the left navigation bar in our course. My email (as well as the emails of your classmates) is located here. I check my email at least once a day on weekdays. I will respond to emails within 48 hours, if not sooner, on weekdays.

Late Work.

As this is a self-paced course until the last 6 weeks, you have a great deal of latitude to plan your time. No deadlines are set prior to November 2, which is the last date anyone can enroll in the course. However, once that final enrollment period has been met, final deadlines are provided to support the successful completion of the course (please refer to the Late Work Penalties rows on the Course Schedule). During this period of final deadlines, late work will be accepted with a 10% per day point reduction. No work will be accepted after midnight on the final day of the course.

Since you will be working at your own pace, you may hand in assignments as you finish them. The course schedule lists key times when your instructor will be gathering assignments for grading. If you wish to receive a grade on a particular assignment, please submit it to Blackboard by the date listed in the Grading Period rows of Course Pacing Guide/Schedule.

ALL assignments are due by 11:59pm on the final day of the course. No late work will be accepted. As indicated in the Course Pacing Guide/Schedule, your instructor will grade all posted Module assignments on dates throughout the semester. If you would like to make sure you know how you are doing on the module assignments and in the course during the semester, you may post assignments by these dates and they will be evaluated.

Note: If you wait till the last minute to submit assignments, it will impact on the instructor's ability to respond fully to each submission. The instructor will only be able to give a grade and may not be able to give you feedback since the time will be running toward the end date for the course.

Blackboard Submission

Every student registered for any Special Education course with a required performance-based assessment is required to submit this assessment, Abuse/Neglect Certificate and Final Paper to Blackboard (regardless of whether a course is an elective, a onetime course or part of an undergraduate minor). Evaluation of the performance based assessment by the course instructor will also be completed in Blackboard. Failure to submit the assessment to Blackboard will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless the IN grade is changed upon completion of the required Blackboard submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

Grading Scale

95-100 = A
90-94 = A-
85-89 = B
80-84 = B-
70-79 = C
< 70 = F

Assignments

Performance-based Assessment (Blackboard submission required).

These are mandatory requirements and you will not pass the class without completing the following two assignments. Please see below.

1. Child Abuse Training Module

All students must complete the online child abuse recognition training module available at http://www.dss.virginia.gov/family/cps/mandated_reporters/cws5691/index.html. If you have already completed the training module, you will just need to post your certificate (or evidence of completion on your teaching license) to the Assessments section on Blackboard

2. Final Paper (Module 4 Assignment)

Module 4 Final Paper assignment is also a required assignment that must be uploaded to the Assessments section Blackboard. Specific directions are posted on Blackboard.

Performance-based Common Assignments (No Blackboard submission required).

Courses with multiple sections often require "common" assignments across sections to ensure consistency in instruction and learning. This course does not require the use of a common assignment(s). All course assignments are outlined in the Other Assignments section.

Other Assignments.

Reading Checks (16 at 25 points each /400 points)

At the end of each lesson, there is a reading check assignment. In most lessons, these checks are 5-10 multiple choice questions. These reading checks assess your understanding and recall of the chapter in the textbook you were assigned. You may not use any materials such as books or notes to help you complete these checks but you may take each one multiple times.

Module Assignments (4 at 150 points each / 600 points; all directions and rubrics posted in Blackboard)

Module assignments are a combination of independent and group work. Module 1 and 4 require students to write papers individually. The paper in Module 1 is a personal philosophy statement. It also requires you to choose two activities from a list of school- and community-based options. You will include a summary of the activities in your paper. In Module 4, students must integrate information from all of their course experiences to write a paper about one disability area.

Assignments for Modules 2 and 3 are slightly different. Once you complete the Module lessons, you will choose a disability area from the Module and post your choice to the Discussion Board. (If there are already five students who have posted for a disability area, please choose another one.) Once you have completed your worksheets for the Module, you will post them to your disability area Wiki. After posting your worksheets, choose a DIFFERENT disability area Wiki, read over the postings, and comment on the group information provided. Each comment should be posted to the group comment Wiki and include how the information related to at least one aspect of the Module.
