EDPD502/ENGH695: Writing and Learning Across the Curriculum

Summer 2016
June 27 – July 15; Monday-Friday 9:00 a.m.-12:20 p.m.
Briar Woods High School
Ashburn, VA

Instructor: Eugene Monroe Legg
Phone: 703-402-7170
FAX: 571-252-2800
E-mail: elegg@lcps.org
Address: 42628 Capitol View Terrace; Broadlands, VA 20148

COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course is designed to help educators incorporate writing across the content areas. Participants will learn research-based strategies for using writing as a valuable instructional and assessment tool. Teachers will alternate between writing groups, where they will have the opportunity to work on their own writing, and viewing presentations from the Northern Virginia Writing Project Teacher Consultants. They will read current articles about writing as well as two books on writing process and instruction.

COURSE PURPOSE AND INTENDED AUDIENCE
Intended audience is classroom teachers of all ages, levels, and content areas. In depth exploration of writing lessons will allow teachers the opportunity to return to their classrooms with a better knowledge of teaching writing, as well as methods to utilize writing as an instructional tool. Students in this class will be exposed to up to date research based methodology and practice of the teaching of writing, so they will become better writing teachers.

COURSE FORMAT
This is a course that has a facilitator, but the true instructors are the presenters and the students themselves. Teachers teaching teachers creates the best learning experience for all involved. There will be presentations by current classroom teachers and on opposite days students will be working in writing groups with their classmates. Additionally, there will be discussions about current research and articles in the field of writing.
STUDENT OUTCOMES
• Implement a research based writing workshop in the classroom.
• Form student writing groups for the purpose of revision and publication.
• Incorporate writing into all content areas effectively.
• Participate in a writing group that provides quality feedback.
• Improve the skills and scope of their own writing.
• Define the research that supports writing in the classroom.

TEXTBOOK AND SUPPLIES
Select 2 books from the reading list (see pages 4-5)
3-ring notebook for the handouts and writing assignments
1-pocket portfolio folder

ASSIGNMENTS
The following types of writing will be completed during this course:
1. Position Paper (in-class the first day)
2. Book Responses for Book 1 (3 required)
3. Book Responses for Book 2 (3 required)
4. Writing Pieces to be taken through revision (personal)
5. Article Responses (one for each article assigned)
6. Learning Log Entries (presentation responses, weekly classroom reflections, drafts of personal writing, etc as assigned)
7. Final Position Paper
8. Portfolio Compilation
The class will complete a publication featuring the teachers’ revised choice writing.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND PERFORMANCE-BASED ASSESSMENTS
• Attend all classes and participate each week in large group and writing group discussions.
• Complete and hand in all assignments on the due dates for full credit.
• Maintain a learning log of reflections (teaching, presentations, and readings).
• Compile a portfolio of all written work for final submission.

EVALUATION
Grades will be based on your portfolio of your writings submitted at the end of the course and your participation in class in discussions, presentations, and reading/writing groups. The portfolio will be graded holistically.

A grade of A or B will be assigned based on the following criteria:
Completes all required reading, publishes a revised piece in class anthology, participates in writing group by bringing writing to share and commenting on writing of others, actively participates in class discussions and presentations, completes writing to learn responses on readings, presentations, and discussion topics as assigned, turns in folder on a weekly basis for feedback. Attendance to class sessions is extremely important. Missed classes may affect your grade.
